BEST BEACH RESORT 2009

One particular resort which serves as a best representation of eastern Bali is the Alila Manggis. Situated in the Karangasem regency, the journey here will take about two hours from the airport. The establishment has a perfect balance between in-house relaxation activities as well as discovery activities that take guests on a journey quite different from the norm. Alila Manggis is all about promoting the best in nature, culture and relaxation. Here you can enjoy the amenities of a fine resort and still venture out to experience Bali life.

HIGH END, INDONESIA - JULY 2011

Beyond the fleshpots at Kuta, beyond the airport, even beyond Bali's sacred mountain to the east is a realm of weaving villages and water palaces, rice paddies and coconut groves. Alila Manggis is escapism incarnate, its thatched pavilions edging a shady pool. People go for peace, not partying and the cookery school is a big draw along with fishing trips and market jaunts. There's a spa, of course and the staff scurry at your whim.

GUEST TESTIMONIALS

This place is truly somewhere to find peace, calm and a feeling of being part of a family. The staff at Alila Manggis are exceptional! They greet you by name and make you feel right at home without being pretentious. The attention to detail is incredible. This is a physical representation of a zen moment. All your senses are catered to in the most relaxing way possible.

The massages were expertly done, using the spa's own products, made from homegrown herbs and fruits. It was wonderful to have butterflies and small birds buzzing about while I showered outside after each treatment. My yoga instructor was excellent and the one-to-one sessions out on the lawn taught me a lot.

Loved the place. The staff are all friendly. If you take the time to talk to them they have a lot of knowledge about what is good to see and do. Food in the restaurant was amazing. The pool is beautiful, beach is very clean and almost free from hawkers. Spa is amazing too. Loved the room, very comfy bed, and superb shower! Only just back and already want to go again.

Upon arrival, the staff somehow knew our names and greeted us with a personal welcome. What a start! On top of that, we were assigned a beautiful suite that was a refreshing change from the various older style hotels we have seen during our trip through India. A great plus: free Wi-Fi throughout the hotel!
